York's Dead Good Festival

A Festival for the Living

14th-20th May 2018

‘Let’s talk about it’
York’s Dead Good Festival

We recognise that, as a society, we’re not particularly good at talking about dying, death and bereavement. This festival will help people express themselves in different ways, whilst giving advice and support on a number of practical matters. Our festival is part of a network of events across the UK for Dying Matters Awareness Week.

Please note, events are free to attend unless stated. For further information please visit www.stleonardshospice.org.uk or contact the individual speakers.

FRIDAY, 18TH MAY

PLAYBACK THEATRE ON LOSS

PERFORMANCE

TIME 6.30pm - 8pm
VENUE Temple Hall, York St John University,
Lord Mayor’s Walk, York YO31 7EX
BOOK No booking required
INFO nextdoorbutone@outlook.com

Next Door But One, in association with Playback Theatre York, bring an evening of performance and stories of life, death and everything in between. Playback Theatre is a form of improvised theatre in which the stories come from the audience and are spontaneously performed by a team of experienced actors. We have the stage and the actors... all we need now is an audience with stories to share with us.

SATURDAY, 19TH MAY

GOOD GRIEF CAFE

DISCUSSION

TIME 10am - 11am
VENUE Small Room, Briar House Resources,
14 Merchants Place, Merchantgate,
York YO1 9TU
BOOK No booking required
INFO nextdoorbutone@outlook.com

Grief, bereavement and loss are extremely hard to talk about... but they shouldn’t be! Come together with professional artists and storytellers over cake and a cuppa to tell stories, share memories and find creative ways of expressing what has happened and who you are, through the arts. This workshop is run by Next Door But One. All we ask is for you to bring an object that has a story attached to it (a photo, a song, a piece of jewellery, anything) and we will bring the cake!
WAYS TO MAKE FUNERALS MORE PERSONAL AND MEANINGFUL

WORKSHOP

TIME 10am - 11am
VENUE Big Room, Briar House,
14 Merchants Place,
Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU
BOOK No booking required
INFO www.humanist.org.uk/juliekay 07889 573217
julie.kay@humanistceremonies.org.uk

A friendly and informative workshop lead by Julie Kay, funeral celebrant, accredited by Humanists UK.

How will you celebrate the lives of your loved ones and how would you like to be remembered? Thinking ahead is helpful for all involved. Where will your funeral and life celebration be held? What music, songs, readings, stories, jokes, pictures, entertainment, gifts, food, drink etc. will be included? Through supportive discussion and sharing ideas, we'll start to create a plan which you can take away with you to develop and add to on your own and with those closest to you.

CONTINUING BONDS AND THE ANCIENT DEAD

TALK

TIME 11am - 12 noon
VENUE Big Room, Briar House Resources,
14 Merchants Place,
Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU
BOOK No booking required
INFO Lindsey Büster, Karina Croucher, Laura Green, Jennifer Dayes and Christina Faull

In the modern western world, long-term and life-limiting illness can be diagnosed earlier and treated more comprehensively than ever before. Prolonging life is the primary objective, with (inevitable) death viewed as medical failure. After death, bodies are sanitised – the physical (and social) processes associated with dealing with the dead outsourced to strangers. This was not an option in the prehistoric past. In a world where life was fragile and death close-at-hand, death was dealt with in ways which now seem alien to us. Retaining continuing bonds with the biologically, but not socially, dead is a recurring theme in many of the funerary rites of the past – and yet only in recent decades have we challenged the modern assumption that ‘getting over grief’ is the best solution for everyone. The modern world is certainly very different from that of the past, and we face our own unique challenges in dealing with death – not least in the problematic nature of static memorials in a highly mobile, global society. Many 21st century practices echo those of the people that we study – and it is new technologies in particular which are helping us to keep our loved ones close. This presentation draws on current research by the AHRC-funded Continuing Bonds Project, which is using archaeology to challenge and inform contemporary palliative care and beyond.

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE AND MAKING YOUR WISHES KNOWN

TIME 1pm - 2pm

VENUE Small Room, Briar House Resources, 14 Merchants Place, Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU

BOOK No booking required

INFO jenny.latchford@stleonardshospice.nhs.uk
01904 708 553

It’s important for everyone to talk about end-of-life wishes, as dying is the one thing we have in common, and it would be foolish to leave it to different minded people to decide how you want to be treated when you can no longer influence the outcome.

IDEAL LIVING

TIME 2pm - 3pm

VENUE Small Room, Briar House Resources, 14 Merchants Place, Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU

BOOK No booking required

INFO Anne Wyn-Jones · 07885 729759

Come and join this informal, not-at-all-morbid session to find out about the many choices for funerals, of which most people are unaware. Discover how funerals can be more meaningful and, at the same time, not cost the earth.

SUNDAY, 20TH MAY

KEEPSAKE ART

TIME 10.30am - 3.30pm

VENUE Small Room, Briar House Resources, 14 Merchants Place, Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU

BOOK Booking required

INFO Email: sarah@winifredtaylor.co.uk

Do you have old items of fabric and memorabilia such as photos and letters? Do they stay hidden in a drawer? Spend a relaxing day creating a piece of art to celebrate significant moments or people in your life. Tea/coffee and cake included. Maximum of 8 people. £35 per person.

SOUL MIDWIVES

TIME 11am - 12noon

VENUE Big Room, Briar House Resources, 14 Merchants Place, Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU

BOOK No booking required
Women companions to the dying. We will explore the practical side of soul midwifery accompanying a friend on a safe journey home, as well as looking at how this sacred work is done here and in other cultures, both now and in the past.

A GARDEN CEMETERY TOUR

TIME 11.30am
VENUE York Cemetery, 30 Cemetery Road, York YO10 5AJ
BOOK INFO No booking required
yorkcemeteryvolunteers@gmail.com

A talk about the history of York Cemetery followed by a walk around some of the gardens pointing out plants and trees. Donation of £3 per person which includes tea/coffee and biscuit at the finish.

DEAD GOOD CAKE’N’CHAT DISCUSSION

TIME 1pm - 2pm
VENUE Big Room, Briar House Resources, 14 Merchants Place, Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU
BOOK INFO Chris Dudzinska · 07824 639244 enquiries@lastwishesfunerals.co.uk

People are beginning to talk openly about death and dying, and this is a chance to gain information and dispel long-held myths and taboos. This is the perfect opportunity for people to meet up to have a chat whilst becoming informed – and enjoying tea and cake! Thinking about the inevitable in advance ensures good preparation for us and our families, and better choices to suit our individual needs. This is not a bereavement group, but a chance to speak freely about any aspects of death or dying whether good or not quite so good.

PLANNING AHEAD: ADVANCE DECISIONS AND LASTING POWER OF ATTORNEY TALK

TIME 2pm - 3.30pm
VENUE Big Room, Briar House Resources, 14 Merchants Place, Merchantgate, York YO1 9TU
BOOK INFO Professor Celia Kitzinger
Professor Sue Wilkinson
Advance Decisions Assistance
adassistance.org.uk
07872 472740 · @kitzingercelia

If you need to make decisions about your healthcare, understanding your rights and planning in advance can give you peace of mind. We will explain how to make your wishes known, how to create a (legally binding) document refusing life-prolonging treatments you don’t want, and how to appoint someone you trust to make decisions for you when you are unable. You will also be able to make an appointment for a one-to-one follow up session to support you in making an Advance Decision. (No charge, but we are a charity and donations are welcome).
